Publicizing Kelowna

We were somewhat amused over a yarn published in a local advertising sheet dealing with the bad publicity Kelowna gets in the coast newspapers.

At first we thought it was too ridiculous to even warrant a comment, but on second thought, in view of the fact it concerns local correspondents for Vancouver dailies and other news gathering agencies, we cannot let it pass without a few observations.

In the first place, there are Kelowna news correspondents for the two large Vancouver dailies, as well as for Canadian Press and British United Press. Main function of a newspaper is to get the news, something which apparently the writer of the article appearing in the advertising sheet is not aware of.

To say that "There seems to be a campaign on to rush out to coast papers anything that could be detrimental to Kelowna," is, to put it mildly, a lot of balderdash.

Those who have been in the newspaper business any length of time are pretty "thick-skinned," and are used to taking criticism now and then. But to say that local men in the newspaper profession deliberately go out of their way to run down a city is merely child's talk.

For every "bad" story appearing in coast papers, there are at least 100 to counteract it. Kelowna, and the whole Okanagan Valley for that matter, has been fairly treated by Vancouver dailies. Insofar as the Orchard City is concerned, there have been several occasions when people living in other valley cities and towns wonder why so much Kelowna news gets in the daily press. They wish their cities could be publicized as much.

It is only by publicizing the aggressiveness of this city, that it has grown to the population it is today. And the daily newspaper correspondents are proud of the fact that they have possibly played a minor role in building up the community.

After referring to the stories appearing in the coast dailies concerning the 'flu epidemic, crop losses and heavy rains, another 'ridiculous' statement he makes reads "Someone is unfortunate enough to die, and again, it's in the coast papers."

Well, it might interest the writer to know that in most cases, the bereaved members of a family often request that a story be sent to Vancouver newspapers.

No, it is not the practice of local newspaper correspondents to give the city a black eye. They take the news as it comes. On many occasions, "local" stories have "broken" in Vancouver, and correspondents have been telephoned by Vancouver dailies to obtain the facts. On the other hand, some coast newspapers and news gathering agencies make it a practice of telephoning "local" sources after receiving a story from a correspondent. Such was the case in the recent 'flu epidemic, and the RCMP investigations.

The writer of the article in the advertising sheet goes on to say "For the sake of a few cents for news reports, Kelowna is getting an awful bad name, despite the efforts of a great many local organizations which are trying hard to build up favor for the community."

Balderdash. Local correspondents work hand-in-hand with the Board of Trade, City Council and other organizations in an attempt to publicize Kelowna. We personally know of one Kelowna newspaperman, who, for the last three years, has written copy and submitted pictures for a brochure published by the B.C. Government Travel Bureau. Over 25,000 copies of this pamphlet have been distributed throughout the United States and Canada. He has also had articles published in leading Canadian magazines, Financial Post, MacLean's, and other eastern publications too numerous to mention. And all these stories are written with one sole purpose—of boosting Kelowna.

His personal contact with outside newspapermen, photographers, radio and newsreel representatives, has also paid off insofar as public relations is concerned. These men appreciate the hospitality they have received from civic officials and residents of the community, and look forward to returning to the city to "cover" a major event.

In conclusion, the writer of the article in the advertising sheet says "It's the old thing of selling ones birthright for a mess of pottage."

Our only comment is that if the writer of this yarn had contributed a small fraction toward publicizing Kelowna in other newspapers and magazines, he might be doing to the community a service, instead of sitting back and criticizing those who are trying to do a good job.

Well Done, Packers!

Saturday night's game at Kamloops virtually wrote "30" to the hockey season insofar as the Kelowna Packers are concerned. And while the Packers were defeated by a one-sided 7-2 score, the players should not feel too disappointed they did not make the playoffs. They fought hard, but the breaks were against them.

We do not intend to get into a long-winded discussion over refereeing, but we venture to say if Saturday night's game at Kamloops was any criterion, Senior A hockey will just about be washed up next year, unless league officials do something about getting competent men to handle games. Kelowna fans who visited Kamloops Saturday night had every reason to come away boiling as a result of the decisions handed down.

Packers should not feel too badly being knocked out of the playoffs. They finished the season with virtually the same club with which they started. Lack of finances hampered team officials importing players, while the off-again, on-again deadline for imports proved an advantage for other teams in the league.

Before the hockey season is packed away for another season, we suggest that something should be done locally in organizing a public reception for the Packers. And we mean PUBLIC, as there are many Packer-Backers who would like to take part in a reception which would honor a team that has fought hard all season. If anything is done along these lines, it should be organized almost immediately before some of the

March 1932 Holds Snow Record

Last night's blizzard brought a sudden end to any thoughts of spring. Snowdrops and crocuses, harbingers of better things to come insofar as weather is concerned, are now buried deep in snow. Temperature tonight is expected to drop to zero.

The three and a half inches recorded over night was the second heaviest since 1903. Snowfall Saturday measured two inches, bringing the week-end fall to five and a half inches. Following are some of the twenty-four-hour snow records during the month of March, which were released by R. P. Walrod, weather observer:—

1900, four inches; 1903, 6.5 inches; 1904, 2.7 inches; 1917, three inches; 1918, one inch; 1919, three and a quarter inches; 1921, one inch; 1922, two and a half inches; 1923, two and a half inches; 1932, twelve inches; 1934, five inches; 1936, three inches; 1939, two inches; 1943, three inches; 1950, three inches; 1951, three and a half inches.

Storm Plays Havoc With Local Ferry; 50 m.p.h. Blizzard

FERRY service between Kelowna and Westside was discontinued during the night due to one of the worst blizzards ever experienced in the Okanagan Valley.

During the night a total of three and a half inches of snow fell, the second highest March record since 1903 when 6.5 inches were recorded. In 1932, a total of twelve inches fell overnight.

Veteran ferry employees admitted it was the worst storm they have experienced. The last trip from Kelowna was made at 8:30 p.m. Sunday and, although two attempts were made to resume service, the boats did not operate on schedule again until 7:45 a.m. today. To make matters worse, 250,000 board feet of logs broke loose from a log boom at Simpson's Lumber Mill, and the timber lodged itself in the Westside ferry dock and in the bay.

MAX BERARD HEADS LOCAL RIDING CLUB

Max Berard was elected president for 1951 of the Kelowna and District Riding Club, succeeding G. D. (Paddy) Cameron. Also elected at the annual general meeting held Friday night, were honorary president, W. R. Barlee and honorary vice-president, H. C. S. Collett.

Mrs. C. E. Davis will act as vice-president, with Mrs. A. Weddell, secretary, and Miss Jane Stirling, treasurer.

Directors on the executive include Mrs. F. W. Frithman, Mrs. Les Wilson, G. D. Cameron, C. Harris, N. Van der Vliet, Glen Coe, Stan Munson, Howard Ratkin, Mrs. P. Rankin, Miss Barbara Stirling, Lorne Greenaway, and Gerald Berard. Local representatives to the Valley executive will be Max Berard, N. Van der Vliet, and G. D. Cameron.

An attempt to organize a junior club so that younger members may enjoy more outings will be spearheaded by a committee composed of Mrs. C. E. Davis, Mrs. Les Wilson, and Gerald Berard.

During the evening three films were shown to club members, one depicting scenes from the 1950 Gymkhana. The other two were on silky racing and gait of horses.

VERNON MOVES AHEAD

Vernon Coldstream, Cruisers swamped Summerland 9-2 at Summerland last night to advance along the Coy Cup playoff trail.

GRACIE FIELDS NOT COMING

Gracie Fields won't be appearing in Kelowna during her current tour.

This was made known last week by Percy Downton, arena manager. Mr. Downton said attempts by Interior arena managers to get the celebrated English singer-comedian in here in May were fruitless.

If the only dates available were the week-end, the world-famous Gracie would have come through here around the middle of March. "That's a bad time of the year," said Mr. Downton. All the arenas are hoping to have senior hockey playoffs around that time, he added.

"CHEAP" MONEY REQUESTED FOR CIVIC PROJECTS

Delegates attending the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association annual convention at Kelowna, Thursday, went on record requesting the B.C. government to set up a fund whereby municipalities may borrow low-interest money to finance local self-liquidating projects. The municipal delegates asked that interest rates not exceed two per cent.

Introduced by Salmon Arm representatives, it was pointed out the Alberta government borrows money at low interest rates for municipal purposes. A similar resolution was passed at the annual meeting of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities.

LOADING ZONE

Wightman Plumbing Co., who recently moved into the building formerly occupied by Kelowna Motors Ltd., at the corner of Lawrence and Pender Street, at Monday night's council meeting requested city fathers for a loading zone on Lawrence Avenue. The matter was referred to Alderman R. F. L. Keller for investigation.

Four Local R.C.M.P. Officers Sentenced; Plead Guilty to Charges of Stealing

"FAST TIME"

Delegates attending the annual meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association, went on record favoring Daylight Saving Time on the same basis as last year.

A resolution submitted by Kelowna City Council, was approved after considerable discussion. Some concern was expressed over reports the government may implement "fast time" for only two months of the year.

Alderman Dick Parkinson introduced the resolution, and it was seconded by Alderman Jack Ladd.

Mayor T. R. B. Adams agreed that if the government threw the matter into the hands of the municipalities, there would be "chaos" as all municipalities did not favor "fast time."

Kelowna Figure Skating Club Plans Ice Frolic

About 120 Skaters Will Take Part in March 17 Ice Frolic

Second annual ice frolic sponsored by the Kelowna Figure Skating Club will be held in the Kelowna and district Memorial Arena on March 17 commencing at 8 o'clock.

Total of 120 members of the club will be participating in the show and members are now busy rehearsing. Judging by the success of last year's performance, the ice frolic promises to be a major attraction for Kelowna and district residents.

Skating club officials explain the show provides the main source of income with which to pay for ice time and the services of a professional instructor. During the three years of its existence, the club has made good progress in developing the art of figure skating among children.

Miss Peggy Baldwin, the club's instructor, has been working hard with the various participants from tiny tots to senior members.

Tickets for reserved seats may be obtained at Brown's Pharmacy, Dothel's Ladies Shoppe or Capitol Tobacco Store.

JOE FISHER NAMED HEAD OF LEGION

Joe Fisher was elected president of the local branch of the Canadian Legion on Saturday, succeeding Jack Gordon who has guided the reins of the organization for the past three years.

Owing to the fact that the name of one nominee was left off the ballot paper, the election of the executive was ruled out of order. There are now 16 men seeking the nine vacancies on the executive.

This election will take place next Saturday, March 10, at the local legion hall.

Those seeking office include: J. D. Bews, D. Disney, C. F. Dixey, D. Gwilliam, P. F. Hibborn, J. A. Howard, V. Hungle, N. Maticik, Jim Moran, P. D. O'Neill, D. F. Poole, H. Schmidt, Joe Schmidt, Robert Simpson, E. J. K. Topley and T. Thorpe.

Want Gov't To Take Lead In Civil Defence Plans

MUNICIPALITIES are awaiting definite instructions from provincial civil defence authorities before concrete defence plans are made in the event the west coast is attacked by the enemy.

A meeting will probably be held within the near future so that plans can be worked out in the event of mass evacuation from coastal areas, delegates attending the annual meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association were informed Thursday afternoon.

"We do not know which way to turn. I do not believe a central committee would accomplish much," declared Mayor T. R. B. Adams of Vernon, speaking for an Armstrong resolution which favored formation of a central body.

It was agreed the OVMA would call a special meeting when a provincial civil defence official visits the Okanagan.

Tom Middleton, of Salmon Arm said the Okanagan and Fraser Valley and possibly the Kootenays are looked upon as natural refugee centres.

Mayor W. A. Rathbun, of Penticton thought a lot of work could be done by local committees ascertaining such things as blood plasma supplies, food and clothing.

"We should have such information on hand when we have a meeting," he said.

Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games of Kelowna, was in accord with the resolution. He said council had appointed J. H. Horn local co-ordinator, and that a strong committee had been set up composed of representatives from outlying areas. A meeting of the group is being held Wednesday, he said.

Mr. Hughes-Games favored a valley-wide meeting so that problems could be worked out in the event of an evacuation.

At the close of the discussion, Mayor Rathbun said he wanted the government to outline the duties and authority of a civil defence committee, to which Mr. Hughes-Games replied that the mayor and council of a municipality are responsible for civil defence.

DEBATE FINALS WILL BE HELD WEDNESDAY

The Len Wade Debating Trophy finals will be held Wednesday afternoon at the senior-high school at 2 p.m. In the semi-finals last Friday night, Summerland defeated Enderby 268 to 237, and will compete with Kelowna for the trophy emblematic of the Valley championship.

Mrs. A. S. Wade will be on hand to formally present the trophy, after the judges, Col. O. St. John of Peachland, Mrs. D. J. Kerr, and D. F. Hayward, have made the final decision.

Goods Stolen from Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Store

ONE member of the local detachment of the R.C.M.P. was sentenced to 15 days imprisonment with hard labor and fined $150 and costs, and three others paid fines of $100 and costs when they pleaded guilty to charges of theft before Magistrate A. D. Marshall Saturday.

Those sentenced were: Constable M. T. Young, 15 days imprisonment with hard labor in addition to a fine of $150 and $190 costs and in default two months with hard labor.

Constable Donald S. Tweedhope, fined $100 and $190 costs or in default one month's imprisonment with hard labor.

Constable Norris G. Hargreaves, two charges. Fined $25 or in default 15 days on one charge, and $100 and $190 costs or in default, 45 days imprisonment, sentences to run concurrently.

Constable John Edward Pezderic, two charges. Fined $100 and $190 costs or in default 45 days imprisonment, on one charge, and $50 or in default 15 days imprisonment on second charge, sentences to run concurrently.

A charge against a fifth constable was dismissed after he changed his plea from guilty to not guilty. The magistrate said he was satisfied there was no intent to steal in this case.

Corporal Tom Quigley, NCO in charge of the Kelowna detachment, questioned as to whether any further charges would be pressed by the R.C.M.P., stated this would be entirely up to R.C.M.P. headquarters.

All charges dealt with stealing from Fashion First Ladies' Ready to Wear Store, 251 Bernard Avenue. The offences were alleged to have taken place between November 30 and January 1.

Inspector J. H. McClinton, head of the Kamloops division of the R.C.M.P., gave character references on behalf of the five policemen, and stated he was completely surprised as there had been no suggestion at any time of any lapse in duty insofar as local policemen are concerned.

In passing sentence, Magistrate nylon stockings. Constable Hargreaves faced two charges. One concerned stealing a panda teddy bear and another for stealing one set of "Grandmere" sweaters.

Constable Pezderic faced two charges. One was for stealing two pairs of nylon stockings and one set of "Grandmere" sweaters, and the second charge was for stealing one pair of nylon stockings.

All goods were taken from Fashion First.

Left Door Open Charge against a fifth constable concerned theft of a brick of ice cream from Kelowna Creamery. He found the door open during night patrol, and is alleged to have left a note along the lines that the owner had left his premises insecure and that it would "cost him a brick of ice cream." The magistrate ruled there was no intent to steal in this case, and thought the policeman was playing a joke on the owner.

Constable Young was charged with stealing two pairs of ladies' nylon stockings, one ladies' housecoat and one set of "Grandmere" sweaters.

Constable Tweedhope was charged with stealing one pair of ladies' sweaters.

Constable Tweedhope was charged with stealing one pair of ladies' sweaters.

NIGHTMARISH EXPERIENCE

Former Local Policeman Takes Part in 300-Mile Search for Lost Trapper

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police constable who was nearly lost in a snowdrift while taking part in the search for a trapper missing in the east-central badlands of the province is well-known in Kelowna.

Constable Allan Jessop served two years here with the B.C. Police, being transferred to Barkerville about two years ago. He and Mrs. Jessop were in Kelowna for a short visit about six weeks ago.

The story of the hazards met by a search party in the wilds around Barkerville is a sign of a fight for survival. The five-man search party plodded back into Barkerville a little over a week ago convinced that James Skokum, for whom they had been seeking, was dead.

Believed Dead

After completing a nightmarish 300-mile search for the trapper, the searchers believe Skokum, after becoming lost along his intended trail in the Northern Caribou, had become a victim of the pitfalls the search party evaded.

The quintet started the snowshoe trek after the former Esterhazy, Sask., trapper didn't make a scheduled grub trip out from his line camp. It is believed his body lay somewhere along a trail covered with 10 feet or more snow. A party may go out after the spring thaw.

Buried Three Hours

An avalanche of snow caught the party two days out, burying Jessop beneath it. It took three hours to turn him out.

Before action is taken, however, council decided to ask the local detachment of the RCMP for a full report.

1 STEADY INCREASE

of (1) the B.C. department of education through the system of school inspectors, appointees of that department (2) teachers' unions (3) the scope, type, number and extent of courses academic or practical—for which they have to provide facilities; (c) the design, size, cost and extent of buildings and equipment for the foregoing.

It also asked what authority, if any, have the school inspectors, pointed by his department (or any other provincial government department) over the extent, scope and standards of the facilities, equipment and buildings provided by boards of school trustees.

The resolution was discussed at great length. Ponticelli delegates submitted a graph which showed the present costs of education. "At the end of 1950, all things being equal as they are today, schools and social services will take all the city's taxation revenue, and if the social services and municipal aid tax is taken into consideration, it will be 1962 when this point is reached," Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh declared. "The graph shows we are heading for disaster."

Mayor W. A. Rathbun said school costs had increased 33 per cent in Penticton since 1951. Over the same period, the school population has increased 75.8 per cent, but the cost of education has increased more than the number that are being educated, he continued, adding that the cost to educate a pupil has jumped 147 per cent. Teachers' salaries account has been boosted 310.5 per cent, but he admitted that this does not necessarily mean teachers are getting this much more money, as the teaching staff has increased. Cost of transporting pupils to school has increased 527 per cent in ten years.

On the other hand, Mayor Rathbun continued, the assessment roll has increased only 17 per cent, while the share of school costs has increased 313 per cent.

Absorb All Revenue
"So it brings school costs where they will absorb all the revenue at a certain date unless we increase the mill rate. On this basis, it will be necessary to boost the mill rate to 80 mills. But if we raise the mill rate, we may get less money as many are not in a position to pay," he continued.

"This resolution is intended to awaken in the minds of the legislature, the problem that has to be faced, even if it is necessary to cut down the time it takes for a scholar to go through school," he charged.

"Now is the time for action. We have been going down to Victoria for years and not getting anywhere," he concluded.

Alderman D. D. Harris agreed the government should take a greater share of education costs.

"Should we get a large number of evacuee children from the coast, the government will have to stand the whole shot of educating them," he stated.

Pay for Eight Months

Alderman A. B. Ritchie, of Salmon Arm, said his district is unable to meet the estimates. "Present education costs today are equal to the total revenue of the municipality eight years ago," he said. He favored paying the bills for eight months and "let them fish for the rest."

"It's no use going to arbitration," he said. "There's a limit. You can't take blood out of a stone. Many people only have a certain amount of money to live on. It's time we took a definite stand."

Only Reeve C. E. Bentley, of Summerland, disagreed with the resolution. "We voted for schools, realizing we have to pay for them," he said. Referring to "fills" in schools, he said he would be opposed to cutting out manual training or domestic science classes.

Teachers' salaries, said Reeve Bentley said it is no use going to the government as these are set by an arbitration board.

Mayor Affleck, referring to the fact Kamloops has turned down the school budget, pointed out the school increase amounts to nine mills, and another increase is anticipated next year. "We can't operate the city on the basis last year, our estimates worked out at 72 mills, and we finally cut it down to 60 mills. But we have been curtail projects for years. We have reached a point where we can't pay. Last year a delegation went to Victoria and got nowhere," he continued.

Board May Resign

"If we reduce the school budget forty or fifty thousand dollars, the school board may resign. In any way I hope this is what they will do. The government will have to send in an administrator and this will bring things to a head."

"I suggest we send a delegation to Victoria. Kamloops is going to fight, and fight hard," he concluded.

Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games sympathized with the Kamloops mayor, stating the city is in the "same position as Kelowna was in last year, and this year insofar as that is concerned. Last year we went to arbitration, but were told we were in a position to pay. We thought we would win the arbitration, but we didn't. I hope you can do better. You have a good case," he said.

Another delegate thought Mayor Affleck's suggestion was much better than all the resolutions on paper.

Suggesting that the incoming executive bear in mind sending a delegation to Victoria, Mayor Adams thought Kamloops would get the same treatment as Vernon and Kelowna received last year. He said the government would probably use the same as they did to the other two cities last year when 1940 figures were produced against school estimates which were for 12 months later.

When another delegate asked if the O.V.M.A. wanted other municipalities to refuse school estimates Mayor Adams emphatically cried "no." He said each municipality should act accordingly.

Before the resolution was put to a vote, Alderman Bob Knox remarked that Ponticelli had a "new approach" to the subject. The resolution was carried unanimously.

SCOUT TROOP FACES DANGER OF DISBANDING

Kelowna's original Boy Scout Troop and one that probably ranks with any other in the province for background is in danger of disbanding.

The main reason is the First Kelowna Troop needs a new scoutmaster and efforts to find one so far have been futile. The troop is sponsored by the Kelowna Lions Club. Scores of men in the city have been exhorted to take on the responsibility but only in each case a legitimate reason kept the man from doing so.

"It's urgent right now," said a spokesman for the troop. "In fact it's critical. If we don't find another leader real soon I'm afraid all the valuable tradition built up by the First Troop will be lost."

The vacancy is created by the resignation of Peter Acland, scoutmaster for the past three years. An employee of the Veterans Land Act, Mr. Acland is being laid off by the end of this month. This is all part of the nation-wide civil service trim-down-staffs program.

Glorious Background

Convinced he will have to go elsewhere to get employment, Mr. Acland has withdrawn from leadership of the First Kelowna Troop.

Formed here in 1912, the First has seen over 300 Kelowna citizens pass through its character-building framework. Most of these are men who are helping write the present history of the Orchard City.

For one example there is Maj. Gen. R. F. L. Keller an outstanding personality in World War II, the city's greatest soldier and presently serving the city as an alderman. It was the troop's first King Scout leader.

Men interested in Scouting and willing to assume leadership of First Kelowna Troop should get in touch with the president of the Lions Club, sponsors of the troop, or District Commissioner Art Gray of Rutland.

BURNABY POLICY OVER SS BOOST IS TURNED DOWN

Municipal representatives attending a business meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association, in Kelowna last Thursday, agreed that a precedent would be set if social assistance allowances were boosted in another municipality where there are "local" charges.

The matter was brought to the attention of delegates by Kelowna representatives, who sought an "expression of opinion." A letter received by Kelowna City Council last week from Burnaby municipality, stated Burnaby council decided to increase social assistance allowances by five percent, and that under this policy, Kelowna's share would be boosted $3.94 a month based on cases now being administered by that municipality.

Expression of Opinion
Before action was taken, Kelowna council decided to refer Burnaby's letter to the O.V.M.A. convention. Speaking to the question, Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games stated that while the matter is not large, it would be unfair to boost social assistance allowances to people living in another municipality, and not increase those in Kelowna.

Delegates unanimously agreed that Kelowna should not be forced into paying raising social assistance want to move to another municipality, that's their business, but they should not expect their former municipality to increase allowances under circumstances such as this," one delegate remarked.

"Burnaby got a job when they received their school estimates after they decided to increase the social assistance allowance," retorted another member.

"Kelowna merely wanted an expression of opinion," declared Mr. Hughes-Games at the end of the discussion.

dig him out. Then the party started across a lake. Visibility was cut by swirling snow. The ice gave way and Game Warden Ernie Holmes plunged into the freezing water.

He was pulled to safety. The men built a huge fire on the shoreline and dried the warden's clothes.

They headed back but got lost within an hour. They wandered for nearly a day, then found wolverine tracks which they decided to follow on "a hunch."

The animal's tracks led to a deserted trapline cabin. There they rested and regained their bearings. "From then on," they said upon their return to Barkerville, "it was straight plodding."

WOULD LOWER RESTRICTIONS FOR ELECTIONS

A resolution submitted by Vernon Junior Chamber of Commerce to the annual convention of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association Thursday afternoon, calling for an amendment to the Municipal Act to enable more people to seek civic office, was approved by representatives.

It was pointed out that under the present provisions of the act, an individual who buys a home under a long-term agreement, is not qualified to seek civic office. Gist of the resolution calls for an amendment to the act which would permit a man's equity in a house over a period of years to qualify him for office. In other words when the mortgage is below the assessed value of the property then an individual is entitled to seek election.

"We have run into the same difficulty in Kelowna. It's a thing that should be encouraged," declared Alderman Dick Parkinson.

Another delegate wondered whether a man with only a $1,000 equity would have the time to spend on municipal affairs.

The intent of the resolution would be to liberalize the number of people who can stand for office," remarked Mayor T. R. B. Adams.

logs had broken loose. The vessel returned to the Kelowna dock. At 6 a.m. it made the crossing, but found logs had drifted into the Westside dock. Tugs later cleared the floating timber, and normal service was resumed at 7.45 a.m.

When the boat was docked, it would rise and fall over four feet during the height of the storm.

Many motorists stranded on the other side of the lake, sought shelter at Westbank, Peachland and Summerland.

Mr. Willis was at the Kelowna dock, and advised motorists returning to their homes on the other side of the lake, to remain in Kelowna overnight.

Local residents awoke this morning to find four and five-foot snowdrifts in front of their doors. Many had to dig their way out of houses. Cars had to wear chains to navigate through the heavy snow.

Forecast for the next 24 hours is cloudy skies and continuing cold. The mercury is expected to dip to zero tonight in Kelowna and district.

Other parts of B.C. also experienced heavy snow and strong winds.

Will Observe "Open House" In Schools Next Wednesday

In what are still fondly referred to as "the good old days," Mother placed a few sandwiches wrapped in brown paper in Junior's little hand, patted his head and rushed him off to a one-room "backwoods" school.

That's not exactly the way it's done now; progress in educational methods and increased population in Canada have produced marked changes.

Now Junior packs a metal lunch pail—or plans to eat in a modern school cafeteria in an ultra-modern school—and rides to school in sturdy buses.

Parents in Kelowna and district will have an opportunity during Education Week, which begins today, to compare for themselves the marked contrast between the era when they sweated through the "three R's" and the current age of visual education and intelligence quotients.

They'll be amazed. In order to stress the fact that education is not solely the responsibility of the schools and other formal educational bodies, special emphasis has been placed upon a different field of educational opportunity each day of the week.

Sunday (yesterday) it was "The Church"; Monday (today) it was "The Home"; Tuesday, "The Farm"; Wednesday, "The School"; Thursday "Industry and Commerce"; Friday "Labor"; Saturday, "The Community".

One might well ask what is being done in Kelowna and district during the week to stimulate activity in each of these educational fields.

Full Week

Yesterday (Sunday) the Kelowna and District Ministerial Association was requested by the Education Week Committee of the Kelowna Teachers' Federation to mention, if not give a sermon to the relationship between religion and education.

Monday: The P.T.A. groups are holding special meetings during the week to emphasize the function of the home in the education of a child. For instance, the Kelowna P.T.A. has a special panel discussion arranged for their meeting in the Junior High School auditorium tonight at 8 p.m. The panel is under the chairmanship of H. Odium and will discuss the topic "How effectively does your home contribute to the education of your child?"

The participants in the panel will be Arthur Drake and Mrs. D. M. Black, parents; Dave Brown and Mary Ann Kane, students; Miss Margaret Crosby and Walter Green, teachers.

Tuesday: J. Doell, agriculture teacher of Kelowna Senior High, has arranged for a display and also a radio broadcast by the Young Farmers of Canada Club, to indicate the role of the farm in education.

"Open House"

Wednesday: Almost every school in the district is planning an "open house" on Wednesday. This is an excellent chance for the parents to actually see the educational opportunities or possibilities provided by the modern schools.

Thursday and Friday: In the fields of industry and commerce all are concentrating attention on speakers, displays and advertisements. The home economics and industrial arts display which appears in city store windows was prepared under the direction of Miss E. McFendry, Miss S. Wolstencraft and E. Redmond. All the subjects, which appear in the displays were done by students in their regularly scheduled periods.

A number of schools are planning social activities such as teas and sale of home cooking, etc., during the week.

The displays in local store windows include home economics; industrial arts; agriculture; library display (in the Union Library); posters from provincial education week contest (eight of which were prize-winning entries); P.T.A. In addition, the following speakers will address local service clubs during regular weekly meetings. They include: Gyro, M. Barwick; Rotary, J. Billyeald; Kinsmen, C.

YALE LIBERALS DISAGREE WITH FEDERAL GOVT

The Yale Liberal Association executive disagrees with the national government insofar as compulsory reserve army training is concerned.

At an executive meeting held Tuesday night, members were not satisfied with the reply received from the federal government regarding compulsory military training, and reaffirmed their stand demanding that steps be taken to implement such a scheme. It was felt reserve army units would not bolster their ranks unless military training was made compulsory. A general meeting is planned early in April.

HISTORY-MAKING PLANE PILOTED BY LOCAL MAN

When history was being made a couple of weeks back by the Royal Canadian Air Force dropping a complete hockey team by parachute for a game at Vernon a Kelowna man had a hand in the making.

He was F/O G. W. Rawlings, pilot of the plane that dropped the Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry paratroopers from Calgary. Rawlings has been in the air force for six years, including the time spent in the service during World War II.

Elks All But Sideline Packers; Tonight's Tilt Just Formality

ONLY a near-miracle—in the form of a 9-0 score or better but a shutout nevertheless, in favor of Vernon—can keep the Kelowna Packers in the MOAHL playoffs.

Chances of the Vernon Canadians pulling off such a stunt are virtually non-existent. So for all intents and purposes, the season is over for Bill MacKenzie's Packers.

The Kelowna six, who could have made the interior finals by beating Kamloops at Kamloops Saturday, didn't have the necessary. Their 7-2 loss at the hands of the Elks left the Packers and Elks all tied on points in the round-robin with two apiece.

But Kamloops had one game left to play while the Packers have toured the course. The final tale will be told tonight when the Elks host the Canucks.

Need One Goal

A win for Kamloops would go without saying. But the Elks could afford to lose the game as long as they score one goal. A loss for the Elks would leave them tied with Kelowna with the goals scored by the respective teams to be the tie-breaker.

At the moment both Kelowna and Kamloops have scored 12 goals. So one goal is all Kamloops needs to get into the best-of-three final against Vernon.

If Kamloops did lose by a shutout that would leave the teams' goals for marks knotted at 12 each. Then it would be the team with the least goals scored against that would get the nod.

KAMLOOPS—Faced with elimination from the MOAHL playoffs if they lost, the Kamloops Elks Saturday night trounced Kelowna Packers 7-2 in the fifth league round-robin game.

The win left the Elks and Packers tied with one victory apiece and the Kamloopsians with a game in hand over the Packers.

Action here Saturday revolved at a terrific pace with the Elks having a slight edge in the exchanges. Don Campbell and Bud Evans each scored twice for the Elks. League scoring champion Harvey Stein, Bud Andrews and Ken Stewart got the others. Mike Daski and Jim Lowe were the Kelowna goal-getters.

Penalty Bug Again

Penalties, often a game-turning spin in meetings between these two teams, again played a part in Saturday's tilt. The Elks had a 5-0 lead in the first period, but the Packers' comeback was aided by a 3-2 win here Thursday before a capacity Memorial Arena House.

While the whole Vernon squad was in the finest performance ever turned in on Kelowna ice and the Packers had done better, the individual star of the major Vernon win was zippy Doug Hage who scored two of the Canucks' goals, including the winner—the only tally in the third period.

Packers had their big territorial say in the first period, outgunning the visitors 8-2 but despite the one-sided play the best they could fashion was a 1-1 tie. Bob Middleton scored first for Kelowna on a sliding slapshot from the blue line.

Canucks Take Over

Hage discounted that one a little later by pouncing on the disc at centre with only one man back, to streak in and score dead-on.

At the start of the second either the Packers faded, the Canucks really warmed up or it was a combination of both. Anyway it was the visitors who took over from then on they had the Packers on the run most of the way home.

Roy McMeekin was his brilliant self again in the second canto—and he had to be. His perfect parries limited the Canucks to only one goal, though they tested him 10 times to the three Cliff Dobson had to handle at the other end.

Stan Jones notched Vernon's second period goal while Mike Durban tied the count at 2-1 while Alex Watt was cooling his heels for a holding charge.

The winning goal came at 5:15 of the third period while both sides were at full strength. The balance of the route was paved with four minor penalties—two to each team—but in no case could the team with the advantage make capital of it.

The outcome left it squarely up to the Packers and Elks to decide Saturday night at Kamloops who's in and who's out. Both had to win or it was curtains.

Despite the stunning loss that left most of the jammed house as if struck by a lightning bolt, Packers' team spirit was perky. Greatest concern seemed to be over whether Howard Amundrud would be able to play Saturday.

He hurt his ankle again in a spill near the end of the game and had to be assisted off the ice.

He hurt his ankle again in a spill near the end of the game and had to be assisted off the ice.

Amundrud hurt

The winning goal came at 5:15 of the third period while both sides were at full strength. The balance of the route was paved with four minor penalties—two to each team—but in no case could the team with the advantage make capital of it.

The outcome left it squarely up to the Packers and Elks to decide Saturday night at Kamloops who's in and who's out. Both had to win or it was curtains.

Despite the stunning loss that left most of the jammed house as if struck by a lightning bolt, Packers' team spirit was perky. Greatest concern seemed to be over whether Howard Amundrud would be able to play Saturday.

The Victoria Merry-Go-Round

By JIM NESBITT

It's beginning to look as if the government plans to make people pay a portion of their own hospital bills. This, no doubt, would discourage a lot of people from wanting to remain in hospitals longer than necessary.

Several government members have given hints that this plan may come about. When private M.L.A.'s give out hints they're often flying kites for the government.

A. B. Ritchie, Salmon Arm; Sydney Smith, Kamloops, and A. C. Hope, Delta, have all said that it would be a good idea to have patients pay a part of their own hospital bills. Unless it's done, said Mr. Hope, people will go on using hospitals as hotels.

Opposition Leader Harold Winch and other C.C.F.'s take a different view. They believe that the premiums should be left the way they are now, and any deficits made up out of consolidated revenue.

This reporter is inclined to the same view. Hospitalization is certainly a social service. And wasn't the sales tax imposed for social security? So the government said when the sales tax was brought in a few years back.

It looks as if we're going to hear plenty about liquor this session. I'm wondering if the government can once again drag off the embarrassing subject, especially if there are many more outspoken speeches like the one made by Brown of Vancouver-Burrard. Mr. Brown practically accused the government of being delinquent in its duty where liquor is concerned. It's not often I've heard a government supporter, a private M.L.A., let the government have it with both barrels the way Mr. Brown did.

Principle Rupert's Liberal-Conservative, when he made his first speech of the session brought M.L.A.'s and members of the Press Gallery a present—a tin of fancy red sockeye salmon, caught in the waters of Prince Rupert. Everyone was duly grateful. Even M.L.A.'s—and the Press—like something for free, especially such excellent salmon.

Mr. McRae, like most members, wanted something done about roads in his constituency. But he was more modest than most. He didn't ask for much. He said: "We haven't any decent roads—we do not ask for an elaborate highway system. We ask merely for one good road from Prince Rupert to Prince George."

An Enderby resolution submitted at Thursday's meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association, calling for the levying of eight mills on the total assessed land value and on 75 percent of improvements, to cover school costs, was tabled until the next meeting.

The resolution, also called for turning over to the school districts all monies received under the provisions of the municipal aid tax, in excess of the portion that is necessary to meet the increased cost of the municipality's share of social services and welfare payments.

Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games, speaking to the resolution, thought Kelowna, Penticton and Vernon would be worse off, under this suggestion.

However, another delegate from Salmon Arm said there would always be trouble with education costs until a flat mill rate is set. "The only thing to do is to have a set levy, the same as rural areas," he declared.

Discharge of water from Lake Okanagan at Penticton dam was 772 cfs in measurements taken last week. C. F. P. Faulkner, assistant district engineer, department of public works, New Westminster, informed City Council Monday night.

Council is watching the lake level closely, and recently requested the public works department to lower the lake as much as possible in preparation for the spring runoff.

In a letter to council Monday night Mr. Faulkner stated that, "all remaining logs will be removed in suitable stages from the control dam."

"Up until February 15, the discharge from Okanagan Lake was averaging approximately 650 cfs and with the present level of the lake it is expected that the removal of the remaining logs will increase the flow to about 850 cfs. After all logs are removed from the dam, the discharge will gradually decrease as the level of the lake falls. Then the dam is to be kept fully open."

It is noted that the discharge measurement taken on Feb. 17 shows the flow had been increased to 77 cfs due to removal of some logs the previous day."

FEATURE ART

STORY APPEARS VICTORIA PAPER

A feature article in the Victoria Colonist magazine section, has brought further recognition to Kelowna.

Written by Ed Hunt, the article concerns John Gervens, ophthalmologist and bird-carver extraordinary, who resides just outside the city. The house is a former mill site and is said to be the oldest in the Okanagan Valley.

Mr. Gervens has perfected his art on Birch Avenue and has moved his wife and family to Kelowna from Ashcroft.

Considerable publicity has been obtained through such articles. The story by Ed Hunt previously appeared in the Spokesman-Review, published in Spokane, Washington. It resulted in buyers writing from Washington and other adjoining states.

Mr. Hunt has also written for the Vancouver Daily Province, The Vancouver Sun, the B.C. Digest, The Kelowna Courier, and other publications. Frequently, such writings are self-illustrated and have included guest editorials.

The National Film Board production "On Stage," a half-hour film designed to help amateur theatrical groups overcome their stage problems, received an unexpected boost recently from Robert G. Newton, Drama Adviser to the City of London, England, now in Canada to adjudicate the Dominion Drama Festival.

"I think 'On Stage' is a very effective film," said Mr. Newton. "It covers a great deal of ground, and makes play-acting seem like fun."

But above that, it shows that any amateur group which is not afraid of work has a good chance to succeed.

Animals dumb? Not so, according to screen director Arthur Lubin, who made "Francis," the story of a talking mule, and is now filming "Rhubarb," a hilarious tale of a millionaire cat. Lubin says animals are sometimes even better actors than humans—and less temperamental.

Many Interesting Exhibits On Display at Orange Hall

By PAT MACKENZIE

Many an interesting novelty and beautiful example of handiwork were on display at the first exhibit of hobbies and fine art sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Kelowna in the Orange Hall Friday afternoon and evening.

Great enthusiasm shown by the exhibitors coupled with the encouraging support of the public has made the decision for the Club to hold a Hobby Show annually.

Among the many objects noticed on display by this reporter was a beautiful peacock feather fan from China with a hand-painted scene highlighting the centre. There were petit-point chair seat covers, and a lovely Paisley sawl. Mrs. A. F. Drake had a collection of hand-woven articles displayed, as did Mrs. Fred Day, whose plaids are absolutely out of this world.

Major-Gen. R. F. L. Keller contributed a collection of interesting articles among which we saw a rope woven from horsehair, which they say, if spread in a ring about a campfire, will keep away all the snakes. Also, he had sent a rifle sheath made by the Yukon Indians, and a neolithic axe-head relating back to the ancient Britons.

Interesting Exhibits
The Armstrong Art and Craft Group sent a wonderful array of exhibits, among which was noticed a hand-hooked rug, which started out as a fleece, and was washed, carded, dyed and rolled into yarn by hand, the design having been adapted from a motif in a larger rug. Proving its durability, it had been in use for 12 years, according to Mrs. J. R. Clarke, the owner.

A lovely piece of Armenian lace had been sent down from the same group by Mrs. M. Hassen, while there were paintings, some of them depicting scenes in the Armstrong district by Mrs. Steele Fisher, Mrs. K. F. Crozier, and E. H. Jamieson; tooled copper work, by Mrs. W. Wilson, and pencil sketches by Roberta Larson, among many other items of handcraft too numerous to mention.

Those who were unfamiliar with Batik, that fascinating hobby from the Dutch East Indies, were able to view a group of work by Mrs. Gwen Lamont. Examples of pottery, from the fresh-from-the-kiln stage to the finished product were shown by Mr. Rufus Williams, while the hand-paintings on silks and taffetas by Mrs. Charlotte Zahara brought many oh's and ah's.

In the collection exhibited by Mrs. M. R. Bloxham were baby clothes made in India over 100 years ago, and proving the beauty of work accomplished by hand, taking handwork among the interesting objects sent by Mrs. D. K. Macalister was a unique Chinese smoking cabinet, truly a delightful way to display and store cigarettes and matches.

Blindcraft on display proved the ability of the sightless to accomplish wonderful things through touch. The hand-hooked rug of George King's, were thicker, smoother, and even than any seen anywhere, while Mr. Perkins also had displayed leatherwork among other things, made by himself and Mr. King.

Hand-Carved Birds
An exhibit of hand-carved birds, beautifully colored reproductions of local well-known feathered creatures was particularly interesting, especially when we noticed a beautiful woodpecker lampstand made by 12-year-old, Dayl Bissell, from Rutland, that would be a compliment to anyone's end-table.

Kelowna's few "Rock Hounds" had an interesting layout showing the how's and wherefores of their interesting pastime of cutting and polishing agate and other stones, petrified wood, and bone into ornaments, jewelry, figurines, etc. Mr. T. F. McWilliams is making a plea for more people in town to become interested and a note on the exhibit asked them to get in touch with him for more information.

Not often do you find men who take embroidery seriously, but arthritis-crippled Harry Hancock is one of the few, and he had a display of his crocheted embroidery and tatting that would put many women to shame.

We saw Don White, newly-appointed secretary of the Canadian Legion has other interests, too, for his first-rocket-bomb and airplane models drew many complimentary comments.

Tying in with the diversified hobbies on display was a representative collection of books from the local branch of the Okanagan Union Library.

Everybody's Business

Canadian Education Week is being sponsored throughout the country from March 4 to March 10. It is the hope of the 12 national organizations sponsoring Education Week, that it will stimulate public interest in education. These labor, farm, educational and other diversified groups want more and better education for Canadians. They are united in their appeal to all citizens to take a look at education and understand its problems.

Today, the successful farmer is just as dependent upon a good well-rounded education as is the successful business or professional man. There is no person or group which is not affected by the standard of our Canadian education. The home, church, school, farm, industry and commerce, labor and management, all have responsibilities, weigh their value and give serious thought to whether or not he is carrying his load.

General Omar Bradley recently said: "Although there are those among us who turn their eyes towards the mountainous issues which crowd our national and international scene, few have the humility to start down where citizenship really counts."

Make a conscious effort to understand the aims of education and the procedures for achieving those aims through active interest in Parent-Teacher Associations and other community groups; through direct contact with those working in the educational field; or by keeping an alert eye toward local educational problems. Such activity is the best example of citizenship where it counts.

This week Kelowna and district schools plan holding "open house" for parents of children. A diversified program has been arranged, and it is the duty of every parent to make a point of dropping into the schools and obtaining first-hand information on the operation of schools. Only by close liaison between the parents and the teacher can there be a mutual understanding of the numerous problems.

Education Week is held once a year. Surely it is not too much for a parent to take time off and visit the school for one day during the year.

WILL PROTECT PENTICTON'S TEEN-AGERS

PENTICTON — Penticton teen-agers are assured that no move to demolish the Aquatic Building will be made until alternative quarters have been found for the Teen Town group.

This was the unanimous decision of the parks board commissioners at the special meeting held last week.

Heading a Delegation from the Teen Town association, Mrs. H. Leir asked the commissioners to consider finding other accommodation for Teen Town if the present headquarters of the group are torn down.

The decision to meet the parks board was made following an announcement by the commissioners recently that the Aquatic building had outlived its usefulness and the commissioners were in favor of its demolition. Interested persons were invited to make their views known to the commissioners at the meeting held for the specific purpose of reaching a conclusion on the disposal of the building.

Indicating willingness to temporarily retain the building, Parks Commissioner A. E. Tidball declared, "I will be persuaded to a great extent by the requirements of the teen-agers. If Teen Town is in danger of being turned out then I am against the demolition of the Aquatic Building."

The commissioners learned that from a membership of over 200 there was an average attendance of more than a hundred a week over the period of a year. "And many visitors use the building," said Mrs. Leir.

New Quarters
"We don't necessarily want a new building," said Miss Gloria Carey, "but we would like other quarters found for us. This organization means so much to the members and it is the only way some of them are able to find their entertainment. Many parents forbid their children to frequent local dance halls and many of the teen-agers have left school and cannot join in school activities."

A letter from Mrs. Marjorie Robinson, expressing her views on the subject, was in agreement with the resolution as phrased by Mr. Tidball.

Annual Reports Show Considerable Work Was Accomplished in Initial Drive for Community Chest Funds

CHAIRMAN Max dePlyffer; treasurer, D. W. Bruce; and budget chairman, C. E. R. Bazett, all presented reports at the annual meeting of the Kelowna Community Chest and Welfare Council held last Wednesday evening at the Canadian Legion Hall.

Their reports follow in full:

Chairman's Report
At a public meeting in December, 1949, a committee was set up to look into the feasibility of having a Community Chest in Kelowna in place of the many individual drives for funds.

The chairman of this committee Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games, called a public meeting June 2, 1950. This meeting unanimously approved the committee's recommendation that a Community Chest and Welfare Council be organized in Kelowna. A nominating committee to select the first fifteen directors was appointed at this meeting.

Mayor Hughes-Games called a meeting on July 5 of the fifteen directors who were selected to organize the Community Chest and Welfare Council of Kelowna. The nominated directors who agreed to accept the nomination were the following citizens: D. M. Woodhams, Mrs. H. M. Trueman, M. J. dePlyffer, W. H. Sands, Mrs. George Rannard, Bob Wilson, Mrs. T. F. McWilliams, Roy Pollard, Royce, Bazett, John Hou, H. Mitchell, D. Hayward, C. E. R. Bazett, D. S. Catchpole and Frank Hyland.

We were all, with so to say no experience in Community Chest work, with the exception of Mrs. George Rannard, so the directors decided to add the following to the list of directors: Don Bruce, Mrs. W. A. Spilvock, W. Nicholson, Art Jackson and D. R. Knox.

None of the directors wished to act as chairman so I finally agreed to act in that capacity for one meeting to start the ball rolling. It was impossible to find anybody willing to act as chairman and I have been stuck with the job ever since. The other officers were: Bob Wilson, vice-chairman; Don Bruce, treasurer; Tom Hamilton, secretary; Royce Bazett, budget chairman; Mrs. George Rannard, membership chairman; and W. Nicholson, publicity chairman.

I certainly appreciated the assistance I received from them and the rest of the directors.

We are now incorporated under the Societies Act.

D. Hayward had to spend many hours in drafting the constitution and bylaws. The directors wish to express their thanks to him.

The late start did not give us much time to organize the campaign. However, we were very fortunate in getting Alice McKay to act as campaign chairman and Dr. W. J. Knox as vice chairman.

It was impossible to find a manager who had experience in Community Chest Drives. We engaged Percy McCallum as campaign manager and he was greatly assisted by our secretary Tom Hamilton and our treasurer Don Bruce. They were a great help in making the campaign a success. The drive reached nearly $18,000 and you will hear more details about it from the treasurer and budget chairman.

The directors wish to express their sincere thanks to all the team captains and canvassers who gave so much of their time during the campaign. They have done a wonderful job. We also wish to express our appreciation and thanks to the press and radio for the wonderful publicity they gave us at all times.

A new job is always hard to take on and I appreciate the operation and assistance I received from all the directors. We had fourteen directors, meetings and they had to give many hours of their time to organize the campaign. They deserve your sincere thanks.

A meeting of the representatives of the participating and non-participating organizations was held on October 2, which was just before the drive. I would suggest that more meetings be held jointly with the directors and council members to co-ordinate the work of the Community Chest and Welfare Council.

The work of the temporary directors in organizing and conducting the Community Chest drive is now completed. If you wish to continue with the work of the Community Chest, you will have to elect fifteen directors at this meeting. Five will be elected for a term of three years; five for a term of two years and five for a term of one year. Thereafter you will elect five directors every year for a term of three years and fill in any other vacancies which may occur.

We will be glad to receive many suggestions for the next annual drive which will take place in October. With the past experience and the backing of the public it is hoped the next drive will be an even greater success.

Treasurer's Report
It is my privilege and pleasure to submit to you the first financial statement of the Community Chest and Welfare Council of Kelowna for the period ending December 31, 1950, and which covers June 2, 1950 to December 31, 1950. This statement has been prepared and audited by the firm of Chartered Accountants—Rutherford, Bazett and Company.

As you are aware our first campaign for funds was held in October of last year, the results of which were to the entire satisfaction of the Board of Directors. While our objective was $22,500, we were fortunate enough to raise the sum of $17,731.29, of this amount some $1,331.00 is in the form of outstanding pledges, i.e., promises to pay over the period of the 12 months following the campaign. It is gratifying to know that these pledges are being met most satisfactorily and will not therefore decrease available funds to us materially.

The success of our campaign was due almost entirely to the wonderful body of canvassers placed at our disposal by the various service clubs, the Salvation Army, the labor organizations and a very fine body of lady canvassers under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Rannard who canvassed the business section of the town. All these canvassers deserve a great deal of credit and it is my hope that their efforts will receive the attention of those present this evening. In addition I wish to acknowledge the assistance of our campaign manager.

DON WHITE, of Okanagan Mission, who has been appointed the new secretary-manager of the local branch of the Canadian Legion. Mr. White was chosen from among a total of 102 applications received for the post.

A married man, he was with the City of Winnipeg police force for 16 years and since the war has been managing an orchard at Okanagan Mission. He was with the 10th Canadian Machine Gun Corps from 1925 until 1939, when he enlisted with the P.C.L.I. going overseas as private with the Princess Louise's Dragon Guards. He was discharged at the end of hostilities with the rank of major.

The new Legion secretary-manager, is keenly interested in sports. He held the junior flyweight boxing championship of Canada in 1922 and was runner-up in the Dominion amateur bantam championships in 1925-1927.

During the first year of the war, Mr. White sponsored boxing teams composed of members of the P.C.L.I., the Camerons and the S.M.R. regiment and the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

In addition to boxing, Mr. White is a competent golfer and swimmer and is keenly interested in KART activities. In 1935 he ran the 100 yards from a five-yard start in a time of 9.4 seconds.

He has been president of the Timberline Ski Club for the past four years. The club, with a membership of over 100, is composed of skiers from Okanagan Mission, East Kelowna and South Kelowna.

SAYS SIDEWALKS GOOD HALF YEAR UNLESS CLEANED

A former resident of Calgary, P. L. Bourgeois, 624 Harvey Avenue, commended council for the attractiveness of the city, but at the same time made several suggestions dealing with local traffic and snow-clearing procedure.

Mr. Bourgeois thought that during the spring thaw, when roads are breaking up, trucks should be diverted down certain streets and that speed limits should be reduced to 15 or 20 miles per hour.

Insofar as sidewalks are concerned, he stated there is little use going to the expense of constructing new walks when owners of property do not keep them clear of snow. He contended sidewalks are hazardous if the snow is not removed as they are coated with three or four inches of ice, and if they are not cleaned off, they are only good for six months of the year.

The mayor pointed out the city has a bylaw making it compulsory for people to clean their walks.

Alderman R. F. L. Keller thought the press could take a lead in emphasizing the necessity of clearing snow. He said Alderman Dick Parkinson commented "It will take more than the press to make the public clean their sidewalks."

Exercise Caution

Alderman Keller thought there was a marked improvement insofar as speeding is concerned and thought motorists are exercising more caution. He did not think it possible to divert traffic, as this had been tried in the past, insofar as logging trucks are concerned.

Referring to the break-up of roads, Alderman Keller thought a reduced speed limit would be more beneficial than truck owners cutting down loads, as the latter measure is hard to enforce.

City Engineer George Meckling stated his department is doing everything possible to keep the roads in good repair, but little can be done until the frost leaves the ground.

One motorist complained to Mayor Hughes-Games over the rut in Bernard Avenue opposite the new Masonic Hall, claiming he broke a wheel of his car. The public works department, for the third time in about as many months, has since filled the hole with asphalt.

CITY LIGHTING IS DISCUSSED

Alderman Dick Parkinson, at Monday night's City Council meeting, reminded city fathers that the industries committee had written the city regarding lighting and drainage on Ellis Street and he asked if provision for this work would be included in this year's estimates.

Mr. Parkinson said the lighting has been improved on Ellis Street from Berrill to Doyle Avenue, and wondered if steps would be taken to install additional lights as far north as the C.N.R. station.

Alderman Jack Jennings, chairman of the public utilities committee, said he was unable to give a direct answer, but added provision would be made in the estimates for additional lighting.

Many Important Matters Are Discussed At Local Meeting Of Trade Board

The executive of the Kelowna Board of Trade is active in many ways, judging by the various reports at a meeting held Tuesday evening in the Board room.

Buest at the meeting was Wen Silbernagel, representing the Okanagan and District Canadian Restaurant Association.

G. D. Imrie, last week's Board of Trade representative at the weekly council meeting, reported on council activities. Howard Faulkner is delegated to attend the next meeting.

Discussions concerning a board representative to attend the Junior Chamber of Commerce monthly dinner meetings, was also a feature of the meeting. An appointee will be made. It was felt that since the local Jaycees had an executive member attending Board of Trade meetings that the latter should also have representation at Junior Chamber meetings.

Concerning further liaison with the Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce, the meeting agreed that there should be representation on the industries committee and on the roads and transportation committee. It was also felt that liaison with the publicity committee was also desirable.

More Booklets
More Kelowna Booklets are needed for distribution and the executive agreed to order 500 more than the initial order. Now in its fifth printing, the book has been a big success and is doing a tremendous amount of good for the city insofar as publicity is concerned.

Possibilities of a federal grant to the Ellison airport was also discussed. The request of the Kelowna Aviation Council was approved, especially since it was disclosed that Castlegar got $25,000 to build an airport.

Chairman of this committee is Ernie Gray. Howard Faulkner is vice-chairman. A letter from Carl Brannan, secretary of the Okanagan Valley Flood Control Committee, revealed that some delay had occurred due to negotiations with Indians and with the State of Washington, the latter being concerned with the salmon spawning situation. However, negotiations are now almost completed. It will necessitate the building of fish ladders. Tenders will be called shortly.

"This is the hands of Mayor Hughes-Games," said President

Boston. "The Board is merely interested if we're going to be flooded."

The bridge versus road question came into the conversation when the Naramata road was discussed, but this matter was referred to the roads and transportation committee. The "Kelowna bottleneck" was debated at the recent formation of a civil defence association in Vernon. The majority of Board members favor a bridge, and until further word is received, regarding the survey of the proposed bridge, little can be done.

Highway Group to Meet
A meeting of the Okanagan-Cariboo Highway Association will be held around the end of March, it was disclosed. Highways No. 5 and No. 97 will be a military highway, controlled by the Federal government. Both "5" and "97" markers will be used on a portion of the highway to acquaint travelers with the fact that one is a continuation of the other.

Money for a CNR ticket office on Bernard Avenue has been appropriated, it was stated.

The executive went on record as approving the single alternative vote, if it is compulsory. In a previous poll, 73% of the Boards were in favor of it.

"It is a sound method of voting," said Geoff Waddington, speaking from his experience in Australia.

With reference to indirect taxation, the executive went on record as being opposed to any extension as far as provincial tax on retail sales is concerned.

A meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade will be held in Vancouver on March 28 and 29. President Boston and at least five other Board members plan to attend this important meeting.

Apple Blossom Festival
The Washington State Apple Blossom Festival will be held on May 3, 4 and 5. Since Kelowna has to supply the float, princesses, etc., an approximate budget of $500 is required.

Vice-president Howard Faulkner stated that "it is a big job and involves a lot of work. It was decided to write Vernon and Penticton and inform them of the necessity for a float. The entire matter was placed in the hands of Bert Johnston, with Howard Faulkner as assistant." (Turn to Page 2, Story 1)

Meteor Stands On Its Tail

THIS PICTURE is not the wrong way up: the camera stopped the airplane, a British jet Gloster Meteor, in the dead upright position when it was making a loop. The silhouette in the right foreground is part of another Meteor (also looping) from which the photograph was taken. Britain has adopted the Meteors as the standard fighters of its Royal Air Force and has also supplied them to the other European countries banded together against Communist aggression.

Glowing Annual Reports Are Submitted at Oyama Community Club Meeting

OYAMA—The report of the 1950 Oyama Community Club executive was favorably received by members at the annual meeting held recently in the Community hall. President C. Gallagher was in the chair. Tribute was paid to the ten-man executive for their hard work and fine spirit. Financially they started the year with a debt of $150 and $180 due for insurance. They presented the 1951 meeting with a balanced financial statement as well as having kept the hall in good repair, installed hot water and purchased a new stove.

The success of their entertainments was highly commended. They included five dances, the sixth Oyama May Day celebration, Halloween party, sponsoring of plays by the local drama club and an operetta by the Rutland High School. The hall was donated for the Red Cross blood donor clinic. The committee also co-operated with the Canadian Legion in arranging a meeting at which representatives of the Okanagan Telephone Company spoke on the proposed dial telephone system.

President C. Gallagher in his report, commented favorably on the friendly relationship the executive had had with its dealings with the Canadian Legion; expressed appreciation of the gesture of Cass Leher and his orchestra when they gave their services free for a dance. He also commended the teen-agers for the way in which they conducted their social evenings, made available to them by the committee.

The following executive was elected for 1951: C. Gallagher, president; D. J. Eyles, vice-president; R. Nyffler, secretary-treasurer; H. Smith, A. Claridge, E. Bolingbroke, B. Gray, H. Byatt, Mrs. E. Bolingbroke and Mrs. A. Dunn.

Ellison reported to the meeting on the skating rink, stating that the rink committee was solvent, with an open fireplace and sawdust burning stove having been added to the facilities this year. Tribute was paid to J. Stephen and H. Butterworth for their outstanding efforts on behalf of the rink. These two men have spent five or six days a week, throughout the season working on behalf of the community.

The meeting requested that the secretary send a letter to the Vernon Public Works Department commending the work done on the roads this winter by F. Whipple and his helpers.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. T. D. Shaw-MacLaren was presented with a bouquet of beautiful spring flowers as a token of appreciation of her five years of excellent service on the Community Club executive.

2 ANNUAL REPORTS

 ger, Percy McCallum, who spearheaded the canvass; Mrs. George Athans, his assistant, Tom Hamilton, our secretary, for their invaluable assistance as well as the members of this directorate.

As you know the funds collected in this past campaign were for the assistance of some 15 organizations in Kelowna, all worthy ones, after allowing for normal expenses of administration. From information on hand it is conceded that if a budget such as the one offered our canvassers, these collections were not large and have been turned over to the respective bodies or are in the process of being turned over. I am convinced that if this Community Chest and Welfare Council of Kelowna was all-enveloping, we could look after the requirements of all organizations in one yearly drive. It is my hope that should this meeting tonight approve this statement and the actions of the directorate of the Community Chest and Welfare Council of Kelowna that their next campaign for future campaigns which may or may not be of some benefit to the Chest in raising funds and which, while requiring more canvassers, will speed up their work and, I hope, make it more pleasant. That is the block canvass where one or two canvassers take the block in complete the drive in one evening.

At the meeting of the directors of the association held on July 26, 1950, I was appointed chairman of the budget committee with the following fellow directors as members: Don Bruce, John Hou. As I was given authority to add to the committee I approached G. D. Ingle and Reg Poole who both consented to act. I would like to acknowledge the time, co-operation and counsel given by the members of this committee to myself and the member agencies with which they have to deal.

None of the members of this committee had previous experience with Community Chest work nor had had the agencies we were dealing with any idea of just what the Chest's requirements were. Therefore, I would like to outline to you the procedure we followed and my idea of chest and agency budgeting and financial relations.

It must be remembered that the amount collected by the Chest during a campaign is not divided up among the participating agencies on an arbitrary basis and paid over to them to do with as they see fit. This would be merely an annual collection drive for funds on behalf of the agencies with the chest acting as collection agent. Now, the chest collects the funds and holds them in trust for the donors to be used where and when they will do the most good. This places a considerable burden on those responsible for the operation of the chest and in particular the budget committee.

The needs of a participating agency are ascertained in the following manner. The chest endeavors to fill the gap between the agency's normal revenue and its expenditures necessary to carry out its functions properly, or in other words, its operating deficit. The first requirement then, is that the agency submit to us a budget of its anticipated revenue and expenditure for the following year. As this was our first campaign we also had to have financial statements for the previous year and for the first part of the current year. With this information and after consultation with representatives of the agencies our committee had to decide whether the budgets were reasonable, whether anticipated expenditures were within the purposes of the agency, the due economy and efficiency were being used and that where the operations of the agency extended beyond the limits of Kelowna, we only paid our proportion.

[This, I might say, was a difficult problem with practically no previous experience to go on and, while our committee considers it

VERNON YOUNG PEOPLE CONDUCT CHURCH SERVICE

WINFIELD—Last Friday night's young people's meeting in the Winfield Adventist Church was conducted by the Vernon Y.P.M.C. Society. It was the first of what may become a series of exchange M.V. programs in the valley.

The program was on "The Power of Music" and Elder E. Rasmussen, of Vernon, spoke for the North Okanagan, spoke on the subject, citing Bible instances to illustrate the power of good music on the life. Other items of the evening included a talk by Mrs. A. White, teacher of the junior room in the Vernon Church School, who spoke on "The Christian's Choice of Music" an interesting feature of her talk being the story of the composition of Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata." The Vernon Society's assistant leader, Mrs. E. Holland who had charge of the evening's program, told the story behind the song, "The Ninety and Nine," and to close the program she rendered the song in solo.

Speaks At Winfield
 The Saturday morning service in the Winfield Adventist Church was conducted by Pastor G. M. MacLellan "Truth by Youth" speaker of Kelowna. His subject was "What is a Name?" the gist of his sermon being the responsibility of Christians to represent rightly, by a consistent Christian life, "That Holy Name by Which They are Called."

The Canadian Adventist Journal, "The Times" known until recently as "The Signs of the Times" is of particular interest to local residents for its recurring articles by a Winfield Adventist, Alice Rogers.

The March number of the magazine carries an article by this author entitled "The Christian Flag" in which the peculiar views of Adventists regarding the Sabbath as a sign expressing allegiance to the Creator-God is brought out.

The first English language daily newspaper—the Daily Courant—was established in London in 1702.

GLENMORE—Few homes in Glenmore have escaped the 'flu epidemic, but it now seems to be almost over. Free Saturday night dancing classes have been resumed in the school auditorium, and the volleyball on Monday nights.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bohren, Glenmore Drive, on the birth of a daughter, Beverly Ann, born in Kelowna General Hospital, on Feb. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Snowsall, bride and groom of Feb. 14, have returned from their coast honeymoon and are settled in their new home in Bankhead subdivision.

Present Diplomas To Local Graduates Of Sewing School

"To become better assimilated, we should try to improve and educate ourselves."

So said Tom Tomiye, representative to the B.C. and local chapter of the Japanese Canadian Citizens' Association, at the first graduation ceremony of Mrs. Gondo's Sewing School held in the Women's Institute Hall Wednesday of last week. Speaking to the 11 graduates and their friends, Mr. Tomiye told them the JCCA heartily endorsed what the girls had done, and what Mrs. Gondo is doing, because "it is through striving to improve ourselves that we will become better understood by the Canadian people."

A. T. "Sigh" Kobayashi, of Winfield, extended a welcome to the many guests on behalf of Mrs. Gondo, and later gave an interpretation of the principal's final "words of advice" to her students in which she spoke in Japanese paying tribute to the manner in which they had conducted their studies in class the past year. However, she told them this is not the end, but only the foundation on which to base their future activities.

Mrs. Gondo also expressed thanks to everyone who had contributed to the success of her new school and this first graduation and told how grateful she was for the opportunity and privilege of conducting such an event.

Speaking to the gathering, Mrs. W. B. Hughes-Games traced the history of the sewing machine from its invention, stressing the actual short time it has been in use, to the present day when there are over 2,000 makes available for all different kinds of sewing. Concluding, the wife of Kelowna's mayor wished each of the graduates success in their work.

Mrs. G. D. Herbert presented the diplomas to Miss Teru Tamaki, Miss Mits Furukawa, Miss Mieko Naka, Miss Toshiko Ueda, Miss Margaret Kobayashi, Mrs. Ethel Kinoshita, Miss Nobu Shirai, Mrs. Kazuko Okada, Miss Kayoko Tamaki, Miss Kiyoko Nozoe, Ruth Kikuchi, Mrs. Herbert said that it had not been so long ago that the Canadian Citizenship Act had come into force and she was very glad to see the Japanese people turning out such fine young people into new vocations.

As each girl came forward to receive her diploma, modelling a costume made by herself, she was also presented with a book by Mrs. Gondo containing words necessary in sewing.

As class valedictorian, Miss Ruth Kikuchi, paid tribute to Mrs. Gondo's excellent instruction, and said the girls would try to remember her advice in their years ahead as professional dressmakers. At the conclusion she presented their teacher with a parting gift from the graduates.

A pleasant surprise injected into the afternoon's proceedings was the presentation of a beautiful plant to Mrs. Gondo by little Chizuko Sugiyama, the daughter of a former classmate.

Ken Kobayashi, speaking on behalf of the parents of the girls who had graduated from one of the only two schools of its kind in Kelowna, thanked Mrs. Gondo for her patience and said, "We shall pray for every success of your school in the future."

Mrs. Ethel Kinoshita, one of the graduates, acted as chairman during the graduation exercises, followed by a delightful tea. The representatives of civic and church organizations attending along with parents and friends of the girls were later invited to inspect the display of articles made by the girls during their year's work. As the guests departed, they were given a hand-made imitation cherry blossom from the Japanese cherry tree which was a highlight of the display table.

POWER COMPANY WILL RUN LINE UNDERGROUND

The B.C. Power Commission has changed its plans and will run an underground cable from the substation on Richter Street down Francis Avenue to the lakeshore, instead of running overhead lines.

This was revealed at Monday night's council meeting, when aldermen granted formal approval to the power company on the condition that it leaves the roads and lanes in the condition in which they were found.

Several weeks ago the power company asked permission to run an overhead cable, and permission was granted on the understanding the line would go underground at the end of a 12-month period.

The power company apparently has found it cheaper to put the line underground at this time rather than do the work over again next year.

Whatshan Power Project Deadline Set April 30

TARGET date for the operation of British Columbia Power Commission's new hydro-electric project at Whatshan, on Lower Arrow Lake, is April 30.

With an initial capacity of 33,000 horsepower, the plant is built for ultimate expansion to 66,000 horsepower. At present, Whatshan's prospective 13,000 customers are served by the Shuswap and Barriere hydro units and the Kamloops steam plant, with a combined capacity of about 14,000 horsepower.

About 140 miles of transmission line will carry Whatshan power at 138,000 volts, across the Monashee mountains to Vernon, and at 60,000 volts from Vernon to Kamloops. It will tie in with the existing distribution system in the North Okanagan and Kamloops power districts, and will serve more than a score of prosperous and progressive communities, including Vernon and Kamloops, Lumby, Oryama, Winfield, Okanagan Centre, Okanagan Landing, Armstrong, Enderby, Salmon Arm, Shuswap, Malakwa, Craigellachie, Sorrento, Natch Hill, Falkland, Westwood, Westbank, Monte Lake, Chase and North Kamloops. Plans for possible extension of service to communities adjacent to Lower Arrow Lake are in hand.

Source of power for the development is little Whatshan Lake. This reservoir provides a 710-foot head, and its waters are fed to the turbines on the shore of Lower Arrow Lake through two and a half miles of tunnel in solid rock.

The project was started late in September, 1948, and it took the hard rock crew of Miners Western Ltd., eighteen months and 27 days to complete the tunnel drive. Since

ARENA LIGHTING IS DISCUSSED AT PENTICTON

PENTICTON—Concern was expressed in council as to whether or not the lighting requirements for the Memorial Arena were adequate.

Attention of council was drawn to lighting plans by a letter from the Electrical Energy Inspection Department, advising council that lighting plans for the new arena do not conform with the Canadian electric code, which requires provision for emergency lighting.

Furthermore, the city's electrical superintendent, P. J. Murphy, in a report to council, stated that present specifications were not in accordance with the requirements and he would not be able to approve the system.

Alderman W. D. Haddleton questioned whether the lighting as planned was sufficient. "Somebody should check into the specifications now and changes should be made," he said.

City Clerk H. G. Andrew pointed out that a flat sum of $9,000 had been allocated for prime costs of lighting, and that requirements were left to the architect.

Below, at the powerhouse level, there was also the possibility of delay in securing conduit if purchasing was held up," Mr. Andrew said.

To this Alderman Haddleton replied, "It is better to face it now than to sit back and wait for an inadequate system to be put in."

BOY SCOUT COLUMN

PATROL LEADERS CONFAB

It was a big week-end here last Saturday and Sunday when patrol leaders from the Kelowna Troop, from Kamloops to the international boundary converged on our city for the annual patrol leaders' conference.

Scoutmasters from the same troops also held a conference at the same time, under the chairmanship of George Yochim, president of the Kelowna Troop.

Following an interesting and illuminating discussion period Saturday, the patrol leaders were taken on a tour of the city and feted at a banquet later that night.

An impressive sight was the parade of the following morning to the Anglican and Catholic Churches. Making the parade more successful was the presence of the Kelowna Legion Pipe Band for which all Scouts are grateful. Visiting Scouts were billeted at private homes while here for the conference.

At the banquet Saturday evening, District Commissioner A. W. Gray of Rutland addressed the large gathering. He was in overall charge of the conference.

Other speakers were Percy McCollum, representing the Central Okanagan Boy Scouts Association, and Ralph de Puyffor who related his experiences at the international jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., last summer, which he attended as representative of the central Okanagan.

Arrangements for the conferences were in charge of a committee of local patrol leaders under the capable direction of Dick Lennie, ably assisted by Ralph de Puyffor.

SEE CHICHESTER FILMS

Here's something of interest to Scouts and everyone else—and bound to be entertaining. Mr. Bert Chichester will show some of his finest collection of moving and still pictures at the Rutland Community Hall this coming Friday at 8 p.m.

Scouts and their parents are especially urged to turn out for this annual undertaking by Mr. Chichester on behalf of Scouting. As everyone knows his fine collection of outdoor life is one of the finest in the province. He also intends to show pictures of his recent trip to England and Scotland. A campfire sing-song will also be on the program.

CAN YOU HELP?

Know who you can find a new Scoutmaster? If you do then be sure to let the First Kelowna Troop know.

The troop's well-known and respected leader—Peter Acland—has had to withdraw after three years as Scoutmaster. He has been caught in the federal civil service economy drive and must seek employment elsewhere.

The troop, Kelowna's original and over 38 years old, is in danger of breaking up unless a new leader is found soon. If you can help, will you?

Well-Known Ok. Centre Woman, Miss Janet MacLennan Passes Away

OKANAGAN CENTRE—In the death on February 22 at the Vernon Jubilee-Hospital of Miss Janet (Jessie) MacLennan, Okanagan Centre has lost one of its most valued citizens.

Coming to Canada from the Scottish highlands with her family as a young woman, she lived for some years with her mother and several brothers on their property in the B.X. valley north of Vernon. A devoted daughter and sister, she nursed them one by one through their last illnesses until only one brother, Donald, remained. After several years' residence in Vancouver, the two of them came to Okanagan Centre in the early '30s, where the brother was employed in the office of the Okanagan Valley Land Co. until his death in 1936.

A friend to everyone and especially beloved by the children, she was for years and until her last illness a teacher in the school of the church; treasurer of the board of stewards, and vice-president of the Women's Association.

Left to mourn her loss are no immediate relatives, but a host of friends in the valley at the coast and in southern California will miss her sadly.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Petrie, of Kelowna, and Rev. R. C. S. Crysdale in the Campbell and Winter Funeral Home on Monday afternoon. Interment following in the Vernon cemetery.

OKANAGAN MISSION

OKANAGAN MISSION—George Hawkins entertained a number of his friends at a party at his home on Wednesday afternoon, the occasion being his eleventh birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Kuipers leave this week for a trip to Hamilton, Ontario, where they will visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Barrett and two little daughters.

The Okanagan Mission Boy Scout Association sponsored a card party in the Community Hall Friday, February 23. Though the turnout was not large due to the flu, the Scouts made good use of selling tickets in advance and a fairly satisfactory financial sum was reported.

A pleasant surprise was planned for last Saturday evening, February 24, when a large number of young people gathered at the home of Pamela Drake to hold a farewell party for Lois and Walter Wilson prior to their moving to Westbank. Rock dancing was enjoyed until delightful refreshments were served by the girls.

Mrs. Harry Angle leaves this week-end for England. She will travel via boat, to attend the wedding of her eldest daughter, Jane.

You're "in clover" these four ways!

Somewhere in your community, chances are that invested life insurance dollars are benefiting you by helping to build urgently needed public works. One of these might be a new, well-equipped school, encouraging your boy or girl to be a better, happier student.

It might be a modern highway, helping to relieve traffic congestion in your district. Life insurance dollars, invested for the future need of policyholders, make it possible to build many such roads throughout the nation.

Perhaps a new industry has recently moved into your town, creating jobs for many people, maybe for you. If so, it may be one of the industries that life insurance dollars have helped to build or expand. Other life insurance dollars play a part in building power plants, water systems and many other useful projects.

Families, too, benefit by these investments, which help make it possible for Canada's 5 million policyholders to enjoy double security — income for later years and protection of loved ones now. Thus life insurance promotes progress and security throughout the nation.
